Report of Cancer Detection Camp at Morabi

A 2 day cancer detection camp was held in Tankara and Lajai village of Morabi taluka in the state of on 13 & 14 May, 2017. The camp was held by The Gujarat Cancer & Research Institute (GCRI), Ahmedabad with the donation of Anekant Community Centre. In this cancer detection camp, a team of specialist doctors and para medical staff from GCRI had participated. Male beneficiaries were screened for oral cancer by Surgeon doctors, while female beneficiaries were examined for screening of cervical and breast cancer. PAP tests were done for every female attended the camp and Clinical Breast Examination by doctors was performed of all the females. Mammography was instructed to the female who are in need of that. Mammography facility was available at the camp site in a Mobile van- "Sanjivani Rath" with the radiology doctor and lady technician from GCRI.

Summary of the Beneficiaries:

Total Beneficiaries: 220 ; Male: 104; Female: 114

PAP smear collected: 88

Clinical Breast Examination (CBE): 114

Mammography: 3

Suspicious and Referred for further investigation: 19

GCRI keeps track of referred beneficiaries also whose contact details are available. Out of 19 referred for further investigation, 11 has been contacted and they are in the process of further investigation while contact details of 8 beneficiaries are either missing or can not be contacted.

Overall, it was a successful camp and we are hoping to organize many such camps in remote areas of Gujarat with Anekant Community Centre, USA.
